DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 4,849,474 (Gallucci).

Gallucci et al disclose moisture resistant polyamide compositions comprising a polyamide, reading on presently claimed component (A), and a polyhydric phenol, reading on the presently claimed component (D). The amount of polyhydric phenol is generally from about 0.5 to 30 percent by weight, based on the combined weight of phenol and polyamide (column 5, lines 11-19). Furthermore, the polyamide composition can comprise up to 50% by weight, based on the total composition, of a rubbery impact modifier. Suitable impact modifiers include EPDM rubbers (column 5, lines 20-44). Optionally, fillers, such as glass fibers, glass spheres, and etc., can be incorporated into the composition.

In essence, the disclosure of Gallucci differs from the present claims in not expressly exemplifying an embodiment containing an ethylene-based rubber, corresponding to applicants' component (B). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have employed an ethylene-based rubber, reading on the presently claimed component (B), as an impact modifier because patentees disclose it as a suitable impact modifying material.

Accordingly, no patentability can be seen in the presently claimed subject matter.

Response to Amendment

3. Applicant's amendments to include "consisting essentially of" filed May 11, 2005 have effectively overcome the Gallucci '272 rejection.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
